SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

“If only my lord were with the prophet who is in Samaria! He would cure him of his leprosy” 2 Kings 5:3

I wonder if any of you watched Dr Thorne on ABC recently? (still on view if you love a good costume drama!) The delight of the adaptation of the 1858 novel by Anthony Trollope was the characters and their personalities which left no room for nuance. Dr Thorne is the personification of measured judgment and virtue. His niece and ward Mary Thorne is a kind, considerate and astute young woman. Mary has inherited compassion rather than the airs and graces of some of the daughters of nobility. Lady Arabella is characterised by her whole hearted pursuit of a suitably rich bride for her son Frank. Frank’s choice of Mary Thorne simply will not do! Her urgency is due to her affable husband’s unwise financial decisions which have lost the family’s fortune. Lady Arabella laments their current state of affairs, “Oh that there would be a gospel written about me, how I have suffered!”

Drama, irony and characterisation are also on display in the Hebrew Scriptures. Today’s wonderful story from 2 Kings is a great example. This story displays a dichotomy between those with power and those without. There is also a distinction between those who can see the potential for God to be at work in unexpected people and places and those who resist it.

The young, unnamed servant girl from the land of Israel is a captive in a foreign land and yet she still decides to reveal to her master where he might find healing. I wonder if Naaman and his wife recognised her as an agent of grace and restored to her people and family? Naaman is shown to be in want of healing, yet he wants it on his own terms. Naaman is enraged by the instructions given by Elisha, “He wants me to do what?! Can’t he heal me in person? Why are the rivers of Israel any better than the rivers of Damascus?” (v.12). We can imagine his long suffering servants coaxing him to follow Elisha’s instructions, “Father, if the prophet had commanded you to do something difficult, would you not have done it? How much more, when all he said to you was ‘wash and be clean’?” (v.14). The King of Israel displays the paranoia that can sometimes accompany power. He assumes the worst about the foreign commander’s motives. The King’s rhetorical utterance “Am I God, to give death or life, that this man sends word to me to cure a man of his leprosy” (v.7) can also remind those in power that they do in fact have huge influence over the quality of human life in their jurisdiction.

Perhaps the King could have opted to use the theological resources that the servant girl had and point Naaman to the prophet Elisha. Elisha on hearing that the King has torn his clothes then acts so the Naaman is healed and may learn that there is a prophet in Israel.

The Hebrew Scriptures carry within them theological truths which intersect with the truths of the way that people chose to act, the character they develop and the social systems to which they belong. We need the prophets among us to remind all of us with power that the resources we have access to are not for us alone. Prophets remind us to choose grace rather than paranoia. For in the economy of God all have access to the water which brings life. May it be so.

Last week I met a man who I would describe as an inventor/entrepreneur. He came to St John's Care seeking assistance, as he was homeless. The previous night he had slept at the Safe Shelter in Braddon and he had some breakfast at the Early Morning Centre in Civic. He walked here with a back pack and a large suitcase, the only possessions he had with him.

He proceeded to share some of his story. He had a number of really interesting inventions, the first of which was quite unique. He had some samples with him and he proudly showed them to me. He had attracted some seed funding for the production of the prototype, had been to China to organise their manufacture and had already locked in some distributors and contracts. He showed me a range of media articles, including some of him being interviewed on one of those early morning TV shows like Today or Sunrise. Given my interest and experience in start-up and small business, we chatted for some time.

However, with some initial success also came a challenge from a large corporation claiming that he had infringed their copyright on one of the components of his product.

Operating a small business is difficult enough without a court case hanging over your head and despite some legal advice that he has nothing to worry about, his mental health has deteriorated to a point where he has left the "chaos" of Melbourne, arriving in Canberra with nowhere to stay.

We were able to assist him to apply for some medium term accommodation and organised for him to stay at a local hotel for a week while he got his affairs in order.

He returned this week with a smile on his face. He has an appointment with a local housing provider and had made a number of business contacts in Canberra already. He used our internet facility and we were able to give him some food and of course we chatted some more. He agreed to stay in touch and stated that he would repay all the help we had given him, when he was back on his feet.

I think with some stability of accommodation and some further legal support with his court case, his mental health will improve, as will his general well-being. I look forward to keeping in touch and hearing of what I hope will be great success in his future business ventures. Watch this space...

Wish list: tinned tomatoes, tinned fruit, tooth paste and children's toothbrushes.

CHILDREN'S MINISTRY

We have had a wonderful term of children's ministry hearing different Godly Play stories from Creation to Noah and the Great Family's Journey in following the call of God. Children's Church played with the Pentecost story, discussed the characters of the story of Naboth's vineyard, considered creation and some of the story of Paul. We also planned and delivered a family service with the theme, "Listening for God." Thanks to the Youth group members who helped to make the kids and parents social event after the family service so much fun.

Children's Church is in recess over the school holidays. We resume on the 17th July. I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the children's ministry team who give of their time and talents on Sunday morning and at Rainbow Playgroup on Friday Morning. Your contribution to our life together at Holy Covenant is greatly appreciated.

Are you looking for some part time work?

The Holistic Care Nursing program is seeking a coordinator to take over the overall management of the program. The ideal person will have a background in nursing, physiotherapy or community services who is well organised, fit and passionate about keeping people in their homes, caring about isolated people and helping those suffering difficulties to get back on their feet. You will be responsible for working with other agencies and volunteers from within the parish. The position is funded for up to 25 hours per week.

If this interests you and you would like more information please contact Anne Ranse by phone on 0439 139 209 or email nurse@holycovenant.org.au

Prayer for choosing an incumbent

Bountiful God,
give to this parish a faithful pastor
who will faithfully speak your word and minister your sacraments;
an encourager who will equip your people for ministry and enable us to fulfil our calling.
Give to those who will choose, wisdom, discernment and patience,
and to us give warm and generous hearts,
for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

Parish Council News from this week's meeting...

- Several council members attended Creating Safe Ministries awareness and refresher workshops in late May.
- Welcoming rosters of Parish Council members are in operation; Phyl Holmes briefed Council on how we can help new people feel welcome.
- The Treasurer reported that the parish financial situation is sound, even though offerings are a little down on last year and we have several new appointments since the beginning of 2016 - Youth Workers, Children's Worker and Hon. Deacon, Pastoral Care Coordinator. A key reason is that clergy costs, notably housing, are lower during our period without a long term Rector. Fund raising, e.g. at the Parish Dinner next month and the Plant Sale and mini-fete in November will be important as we move through the year.
- There is welcome news that funding will be received for the Holistic Care Nursing Program to enable appointment of a coordinator who will work with Archdeacon Anne Ranse; and Covenant Care has renewed financial support. Congratulations on both counts! A Holistic Care Nursing Management Committee has been formed which will be responsible to Parish Council for the HCN Program.
- Follow-up is to take place on a number of Work Health and Safety matters, including transporting people to the church, and incidents that might have caused injury. We would also like to know who in our congregations holds a current certified first aid qualification - if you do, please let the Office Administrator (Libby Warren) know.
- The Resources Coordination Team is focusing on minor repairs such as to the sliding doors in the Worship Centre, and more suitable shelving for the prayer and hymn books. Some other more significant capital and maintenance items are being investigated and costed.
- Reports were received from all our very active teams - noting e.g. a great service and activities involving children and families last Sunday. We wished our Youth a wonderful camp this weekend, not too cold or wet!

BIRTHDAYS THIS WEEK

PASTORAL CARE ACCESSIBILITY

This is a Parish that really wants to care for people – in many different ways, from having tea/ coffee and listening sympathetically with a focus on the wellbeing of the other person, to more specific practical and spiritual support, and perhaps facilitating professional counselling under special circumstances.

With my appointment as Pastoral Care Coordinator a more intentional program is being developed, and members of the parish may wish to make contact to seek pastoral care or suggest ways in which it might be offered.

Contact options for pastoral care are:

1. Ring Anne Dudzinski on 6278 6087 or 0413 994 739. These numbers are in the back of the Weekly Bulletin or in the Parish Roll or the phone book. A message can be left on either if I am out of contact.
2. An email to pastoralcare@holycovenant.org.au about someone else or yourself, e.g. going to hospital or coming home again, needing a lift to get to church, losing someone dear to you. Only two people can access this, so it is confidential.
3. Contact Libby at the office (number in the Weekly Bulletin).
4. Contact other clergy directly (numbers in the Weekly Bulletin).

I can then try to arrange suitable action, including other willing volunteers or clergy.

This is a work in progress, subject to feedback please!

(PS If Susan Joy, as an employee of Calvary Hospital, knows you are in Calvary, she is not at liberty to tell us unless you ask her to let us know).

Blessings,
Anne Dudzinski
