FROM OUR RECTOR ...

Dear friends,

In chapter 56 of Pride and Prejudice, the Lady Catherine de Bourgh visits the Bennets. She wants to speak with Elizabeth and insists that they walk outside to hold a conversation. There, Lady Catherine informs Elizabeth that she has heard a rumour that Darcy, her nephew, is planning to marry her. Such a notion, Lady Catherine insists, is ridiculous, given Elizabeth's low station in life and the tacit engagement of Darcy to her own daughter.

This is, of course, only a small snippet of the 61-chapter novel. It is enough to give you a good idea about the story and an educated guess of its ending. But no one would think to only read that chapter and say they had read Pride and Prejudice.

Every year we read the nativity story, only a few chapters in a very large book. And many people then think they have the whole story. It is enough to give you a good idea about the story and an educated guess of its ending. However, many think to only read this small part and say they know the story of the bible.

Advent is like the first 55 chapters of Pride and Prejudice. If you take time to follow it, you have a much better understanding of what the Christmas story is all about. I would go so far as to say it is essential to knowing what the Christmas story is all about.

I hope you have time to slow down and enjoy Advent. Reflect on the readings during the week, re-read them like a good book, look forward to the wonder of Christmas.

with God's blessings,

Margaret

LIGHTING OF THE ADVENT CANDLE ADVENT 2

In Isaiah 11.9. the prophet declares,
They will not hurt or destroy on all my holy mountain;
for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of God,
as the waters cover the sea.
We light this candle as a sign of hope that truth will prevail, and justice be done for all people.
(light candle)
As we pray and work for truth, compassion and justice far and near –
Risen Christ,
light of the world,
shine in our lives and shine amongst us now.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

I believe in God the Father almighty maker of heaven and earth

Advent is the time of year for getting ready for the mystery of Christmas. We are learning how to wait as we light another candle each week. Yesterday I went shopping with my niece and she chose part of her Christmas present which is now wrapped and under my tree which we decorated together. Hopeful anticipation is a key part of the season.

Which rituals and traditions are part of this time of the year for you? Sometimes we enjoy the comfort of familiar habits and other times due to choice or circumstance new rituals are developed. A few months ago I was visiting my friend Jazz in Melbourne and she had two copies of the book Tokens of Trust by Archbishop Rowan Williams on her shelf. She gave me a copy and we agreed to read it during Advent and then to talk about it over email or Skype. This shared reading has been an unexpected gift this Advent and because we are doing it together my usual good intentions are actually bearing some fruit.

Tokens of Trust is a series of lectures that have been turned into book chapters which examine aspects of Christian belief. It is like being included in a fireside chat or an evening picnic by the lake with Rowan Williams. His discussion looks at the Apostle's Creed and the Nicene Creed which are the statements formulated in the first three hundred years of the Church's existence. Each statement is not simply a theological checklist regulating religious belief. It is an invitation into a life, both communally and individually, which can be utterly transformed by the eternally trustworthy, unchanging love of God.

Chapter One asks the question, "Who Can We Trust?" For Williams, Christian belief is really about knowing who and what to trust. God's trustworthiness is largely revealed in the claim that in the events around Jesus Christ, God has at last made God's purposes clear. The world is designed for peace and for praise, this is God's agenda. Chapter Two is titled "The Risk of Love" and explores the realities of our world with its ambiguities and suffering. Following Julian of Norwich who gave the answer to all her visions of Christ as, "Love was his meaning", Williams writes,

At the heart of the desperate suffering there is in the world, suffering we can do nothing to resolve or remove for good, there is an indestructible energy making for love. If we have grasped what Jesus is about, we can trust that this is what lies at the foundation of everything (p. 10).

God as the source of love and life, can be trusted. This trust is akin to a place of refuge and a sense of homecoming to which we are all invited.

White Ribbon Day 2016

The issue of domestic violence in Australia is a cause that has touched my heart and one which requires our urgent attention.

It is unacceptable that on average, one woman is killed every week in Australia as a result of intimate partner violence and that so far this year, 64 women and children have had their lives taken by perpetrators of domestic and family violence.

We see far too many women at St John's Care who are victims of domestic and family violence and we are all too aware of the devastating and long term impacts it has on people's lives.

Friday, 25th November, was the International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women (IDEVAW) and the White Ribbon has become the symbol for the day. The White Ribbon Campaign is an international violence prevention campaign and it is unique in that it aims to raise awareness among men and boys about the roles they can play to prevent violence against women. The campaign calls for men across Australia to speak out and take an oath. An oath swearing never to commit, excuse or remain silent about violence against women.

I cannot sit back and do nothing, so I have become a White Ribbon Advocate. It is also my hope that in the new year St John's Care will seek accreditation as a White Ribbon workplace. I attended a White Ribbon breakfast at Parliament House recently where the Prime Minister, Leader of the Opposition and Deputy Leader of the Greens spoke about their multi-partisan commitment to addressing the appalling situation regarding domestic violence in this country. We certainly have a lot of work to do.

I was speaking to one of our long-term clients the other day and she said that things were going OK. Only OK I asked. She said that she was finally out of an all-consuming, long-term violent relationship and was just starting to be able to focus on other things. She lamented at just how difficult it was to get out of the relationship.

Another client recently said "I love him a lot and I just want him to change". These are the words of a woman who describes her relationship as being filled with distrust, control and abuse.

I invite all the men reading this to say aloud the White Ribbon oath – "I will stand up, speak out and act to prevent men's violence against women. This is my Oath."

Wish list: vegemite, pasta sauce, long life milk and cereal.

Quiet Afternoon: The Challenge of Advent

TODAY

3-5pm in Rainbow Centre.

Advent is to Christmas what Lent is to Easter – a time of preparation and waiting. It is all too easy in the frantic busyness of the season to lose connection with the Love, Joy and Peace that we – and our world – so much need.

Give yourself the gift of time out for quiet reflection as well as some sharing with others.

Facilitated by Frances Mackay. Sign up sheet is on the board.

ST. JOHN'S CARE CHRISTMAS GIFT BOX

Prayer Vine meeting Sunday 11 December at 2pm Rainbow Centre

The prayer vine will meet with Canon Margaret to pray for the Parish and for those in special need of prayer. Regular members and others interested in joining the prayer vine are invited to attend. Afternoon tea will be served afterwards to enable an opportunity to fellowship together. Now that Canon Margaret is on board, we will aim to have a time of prayer together a few times each year. If you are not able to attend this time we will gather again sometime early in the new year.

Children's Christmas Service

The Children's Christmas service at 4:30pm on Christmas Eve is a wonderful celebration enjoyed by young and old. A great chance to invite neighbours, friends and family members.

All children will be invited to participate during the service and there are also some speaking parts for those who know that they'll be there. If you would like to help lead the service please see Katherine (children@holycovenant.org.au). We will be preparing during Children's Church on the 4th and 11th of December. We will also practice during and after the 10am service on the 18th of December. It would be helpful if cast members could plan to arrive at 3:30pm on Christmas Eve.

Thank You Holy Covenant

Thanks to all of you for being so supportive and prayerful before, during and after my ordination last week. I'm very grateful to serve God alongside you all. In mid-January I'm going to Gladstone's Library in North Wales to work on my PhD. Gladstone's Library is a hub for film and theology which is my focus area. I'll also be visiting other universities and speaking with people about the work that they are doing and will have the opportunity to share some of my work. In May when I return, I'm going to be visiting the Northern Territory where two of the films I'm looking at Ten Canoes and Charlie's Country were set (the third film that I'm looking at is The Tracker). I'm making arrangements to stay in the community of Ramingining where Ten Canoes was filmed and developed. It is a very exciting time and I'm hoping to make some very good in-roads with my study. I'll then return to Canberra for the final 18 months of my PhD.
