What makes a person unholy enough for God to turn away? Jesus' answer might surprise us.

Looking through Mark's gospel, we see God -in-the-flesh cast out an evil spirit from someone in a synagogue when no one had noticed it was there all along (Mark 1.21-28). Jesus felt pity for a leper, touched and restored him to life (1.40-45), then forgave a paralytic their sins so that he could walk home in celebration (2.1-12). He called a tax collector to follow him, right when Levi was gouging others (2.13-14). Jesus had dinner with sinners (2.15-17), told his disciples to eat rather than fast and even gather food on the Sabbath when hungry (2.18-28). He made Judas an apostle (3.13-19). He crossed a lake to find and heal a demoniac who became the first missionary (5.1-20). A woman who couldn't stop bleeding (5.21-34) was healed and Jesus took a dead girl by the hand to bring her back to life (5.35-43). He walked through crowds and was touched by countless hands and bodies of who knows how many people (6.53-56).

Jesus was not put off by sickness, vocational choices or law breaking, unintentionally or otherwise. Demon filled people were no obstacle. Jesus pulled back into life all those who were put out of reach. All the world's unholiness didn't dent or deter the Holy One of God.

For most Christians, what tops the "holy or otherwise" list is a matter of who we love or sleep with, who we're married too, divorced from or which gender we identify with. Love and sex top our list because they are profoundly personal, easily identifiable and sufficiently ambiguous enough for pious religious leaders to work up large crowds into a lather of righteous indignation. It worked for the Pharisees. It worked for the Rev. The Hon. Fred Nile MLC and Lyle Shelton too. They would have us believe that rainbow people, divorcees, single parents, teens, sex workers and punters stayed home when Jesus was out and about.

Israel's most pious religious leaders didn't care enough to help the leper or reduce the obstacles facing a paralytic. They were happy enough to benefit from extortionate tax collection and for people to be hungry. They stayed away from the crowds so they could be clean. They were more interested in playing theological games about compliance than caring about people.

Thankfully, the One who created everything encouraged Solomon to write a poem about the wonders of love, sex and intimacy that grows between two people (Song of Solomon). The One who saves everyone reminded us that it's not who we love that causes God to turn away. It's what comes out of us that's the problem, especially when it is our desire to use others for our own satisfaction, benefit, convenience, gain, dominance, or even to look good in front of God.

Holiness is not about God's separation from humanity. God is holy enough to help. Holiness is about looking enough like Jesus to share in God's purposes by helping others. I'm wearing purple today as a sign to rainbow people that God doesn't have a problem with love. It was hate that stuck in Jesus' craw. I'm wearing purple because we should all be able to come to church just as we are – whether we are holy or unholy. Look carefully and you'll see that Jesus even made room for puritanical religious leaders too.

SJC WORKING WITH CLIENTS DURING THE CURRENT COVID LOCKDOWN

This week I'd like to share a couple of stories which reflect on the current Covid related lockdown situation.

On the first day of the lockdown period, we had numerous phone calls from people who were worried that they might run out of food and who wanted to know if St John's Care was still operating. All of our clients were pleased to find out that SJC would be open, and that they could still come in and get emergency support if required.

For the past few days my main focus as SJC Case Manager has been on making wellbeing phone calls to our clients and reassuring them that we are here to support them.

One new client called asking if we could help him pay his very overdue internet bill. He began by apologising and telling me how embarrassed he was to ask for help, but really needed the assistance as it was his last resort. I reassured him that St John's Care is available to support anyone who is doing it tough - no matter what circumstance. SJC paid his bill and connected him with the financial advocacy service moving forward. He was extremely appreciative.

Yesterday I received a call from Y, a long-term client who SJC has been supporting with food. Y was whispering into the receiver trying to speak. I could hardly understand her words as her voice was weak. She told me that she had recently been in hospital due to her chronic illness and had just been discharged even though she felt she still needed the medical support. She had been discharged because there was a shortage of beds due to an influx of in-patients.

Unfortunately, the prescriptions for her essential medications were at her local pharmacy and not only did she not have the money to pay for them, but she was too weak to walk to get them. I enquired as to whether she had enough food supplies. She explained that currently she eats very little and that she had enough for the week. Her main concern was running out of the medication.

Fortunately, SJC has a copy of her advocacy consent form on file, so I pulled out it out and called her local pharmacy. SJC were able to pay for Y's medications on the spot. Later that day Y's brother was able to pick her up to take her to the pharmacy. It was a great solution and it all worked out well.

Dear readers, on behalf of our clients, thank you for your continuous support!

Kind regards,

Nailia, SJC Case Manager

CAPTURE A DELIGHT

May the Lord of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in him. Romans 15:13

What was the delight you captured on your hours walk today and brought home as a memory?

I find I am seeing and savouring more detail. I see beauty like the deep purple clump of violets gone wild in the grass near the walkway that I have only briefly seen in passing before but never pondered on the how or why of their presence there. I capture the bright, ever so bright red of the front of the King Parrot's chest, so brilliant red, and it matches the brilliance of his green back when he turned about. That memory was imprinted in me for the rest of my walk home. Ah, such beauty from a wonderful creator. My gifts to bring home from my walk.

I read this quote: Watch windflowers dance in the breeze for a moment of pure joy.

Grace and peace from the Lord Jesus Christ,

Anne, servant of the Lord

WEAR IT PURPLE DAY 29 August

Wear It Purple is a day celebrated at schools, universities and businesses to foster supportive, safe, empowering and inclusive environments for rainbow young people.

As a church, it shows that we see, hear and love all those who are LGBTIQ. This is especially important as it allows people to come to church as a whole person, without fear or having to leave someone important outside.

The day is all about healing when bullying, exclusion and rejection has been a part of their faith journey.

If you feel comfortable wearing purple, give it a go and don't worry if you can't. We love you no matter what you wear.

SAVE THE DATE FOR THE FETE

SATURDAY 6 NOVEMBER 2020

Let's make this a great event for the community. Time now to think how you can help on one of the stalls or setting up. There will be the usual large trash and treasure, an Aladdin's cave for jewelry items, an antiques and collectable stall and a large book stall, plant stall, BBQ. Cake stall and a lovely café of delights to have with your tea or coffee. There will be a sign-up sheet on the notice board in the next few weeks. Meanwhile start potting those plants from your garden so they are well established for the event.

my contribution to our future

The COVID lockdown has disrupted many things. One thing it has not disrupted is our life together as God's people. Throughout July, our parish plan gave us a picture of what could happen over the next 3 years. We can't make it happen without your help, involvement or prayers. You'll find a response sheet at the back of the bulletin. It would be great to hear back from you by the end of September. Thanks to everyone who has replied. It's great to have you onboard!

Blessings, Wayne

finding our future

our parish plan

2021-2024

Everyone has their own reason for coming to church. For some it's about connecting with God or following their passions. For others, church is about healing or renewal. Some come out of obligation. Most are here because it's where we want to be.

Whatever your reason, we all reach up to God with open hands to have more faith, a deeper hope, and richer love. We reach in to build friendships that last through the storms. We reach out to a world that's hungry for love, looking for hope yet uncertain about faith. We work with others to build a better world. We find that we don't need to carry all that baggage by ourselves.

Holy Covenant is a place for everyone. We are community of friends who can help you to become all that God made you to be. We value inclusion, diversity, compassion, justice and freedom. We welcome all who want to discover, understand and participate in God's kingdom so that our neighbourhood will thrive.

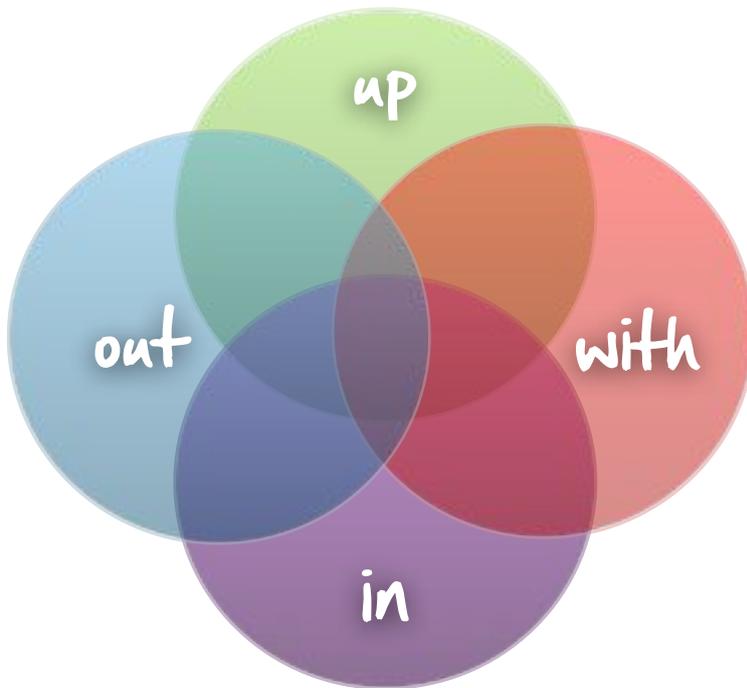

So as you think about God's call, you might want to pray about:

- the future that God wants you to discover
- the seeds that God has planted in you that are waiting to grow
- how might you make a difference by helping or getting involved
- how you can help us redeveloped the Rainbow Centre
- how can we help you to find the faith, hope and love that you are looking for?

We grow by reaching out to others through:

- Community chaplaincy
- Holistic Care Nursing Ministry
- Pet ministry
- pastoral care through listening, baptism, weddings, funerals

We grow with our neighbourhood through:

- Playgroup
- Community garden
- Becoming well (mental health)
- wider works (financial support for other groups like St John's Care)
- environmental and justice programs

We grow as a community through:

- camps
- pizza nights
- women's afternoon teas
- men's dinners
- have a good yarn

Your generosity makes so many things happen. In 2021 you might wish to consider increasing your weekly giving by 10%.

Giving regularly through an automatic deduction (direct credit) means that the parish can better meet its monthly expenses. Offertories fall behind during the winter months when up to a third of parish members are away either on holiday or due to sporting commitments. Of course, our giving does not stretch like it used to. We encourage those using this method to review it each year.

Offertory envelopes are an important way for regular attenders, who might not feel comfortable with electronic options, to help our church to grow.

You can also make a legacy gift through making a bequest in your will. Gifts of between 1–5% from an estate can allow us to build a trust fund that could yield a regular income stream over time. Such gifts can enable our church to undertake larger projects that would otherwise be beyond our normal capacity to achieve.

A PRAYER FOR MY CHURCH

Good things grow through prayer. You might wish to pray the prayer below, or otherwise commit to praying regularly for our church.

*Generous God,
 you have given us so much.
 Everything we have comes from you.
 Through your goodness we have so much to share.
 May we who struggle for time make room in our diaries for your kingdom.
 May we who find change hard make room for new people who may look, sound and act differently.
 May we discover the wideness, deepness and breadth of your future as your disciple.
 May all our offerings be used for your glory and for the service of your kingdom.
 Amen.*
